DOIT Centre and inclusion of students

The DOIT Centre is an open development, research, teaching and demonstration environment at the University of Primorska, Faculty of Tourism Studies – Turistica. It brings together students, researchers, businesses, destinations, public institutions, technology providers and other interested partners seeking to jointly develop solutions to challenges in tourism. At the Centre, we research and adapt ideas and technologies, develop prototypes, test them with users and demonstrate them in real-world tourism contexts. More information: here.
